Things to consider before class starts

Questionnaire for your students

Consider your clothing, hair and accessories

When you're scheduling your class and picking a topic/theme, allocate time for your class so you can fit what you want to cover OR cover what you can fit in your given time frame

Be okay with repetition and simplicity

Don't plagiarize and give credit where it's due

Staying on track and not getting too distracted is key for focus and retention. Keep it relevant.

Have good technology

Be flexible with how you teach, with who's in your class, with the outline of your class.

Be able to improvise

Plan ahead

Make it fun, enjoyable and memorable for students

How does teaching change if you are teaching online

Communication that would prepare the student for class

Setting yourself up for success
